SOME ARE SETTLING

But Other Merchants Think Another Way.

WILL FIGHT THE INQUISITOR

Not With Fists and Weapons, But With the Law—They Cannot Understand Why a Settlement Is Allowed If the Inquisitor Has the Right.

The commotion created by the action of the tax collector in summoning local business men to appear in his little room at the court house has not yet subsided, but, on the other hand, seems to be growing in intensity.

It is a well-known fact that a number of business men have settled with the inquisitor within the past few weeks, and have been given a clear receipt on the payment of sums much below what he had charged against their names. Those who have determined to stand out against the inquisitor cannot understand why he should be so willing to settle for a small sum, thus cutting down the profit of his company, if he can legally collect all that he claims is due. On that, principally, they base their assertion that they are not compelled to pay and will not do it until the matter goes to court. One of the largest mercantile concerns in town did not respond to the inquisitor's demand for a visit, and recently received another letter, with the information that the sheriff would call if the last one was neglected. Another instance is cited where the inquisitor interviewed his victim by means of a telephone, and the local man convinced him that he had paid his taxes regularly and owed nothing. Thus was he saved the expense of traveling to the county seat. In one other case it has been learned that the inquisitor would transact business by means of a telephone. Instances of settlements can easily be found in town, one man who was charged with $1,000 being allowed to go when he paid $600. In another case the victim settled for $500, although the amount opposite his name was much greater. Those who have not paid are anxiously awaiting the result of their failure to go to Lisbon, and want to see what the inquisitor will do. They expect developments soon.

FOR MAIL CARRIERS.

Congressman Taylor Introduced a Nice Bill.

Hon. R. W. Taylor has introduced a bill in congress which cannot but make him popular with postal employees.

The bill provides that "no letter carrier, postoffice clerk or railway postal clerk shall be removed or requested to resign (except when arrested for a crime when suspension or removal may take place at once, in the direction of the postmaster general) until written charges shall have been preferred against him, and after such charges shall have been examined into by the postoffice department, upon such reasonable notice to the person charged, and in such manner of examination as the regulations of the postoffice department may prescribe; but letter carriers, postoffice clerks or railway postal clerks may be suspended by the postmaster general, pending the examination herein provided for."

SAM JONES' SCHEME.

How He Raised Money When the Collection Was Taken.

A well known gentleman relates that when he was south a few weeks ago he heard Sam Jones preach, and was stricken with the magnetism which the orator seemed to throw out over the audience. One incident of the meeting was before the collection was taken up. Reverend Sam wanted to impress upon the minds of all that they should contribute, and he said: "All ladies and gentlemen will please place their contributions in the box; those who are not, need not put any in." It is needless to say that the collection was large, and the Liverpool gentleman smiled when he thought of the southerners talking of Yankee tricks.

TRADE WAS POOR.

Business Men Were Complaining on Saturday Night.

One of the unusual occurrences of the holiday season was the bitterness with which business men complained of trade on Saturday night. The streets were filled with people and many carried well filled baskets, but the merchants were almost a unit in declaring that their business was not near what they expected. Out of a large number of stores in the very center of town only one was found where the proprietor said he was doing a nice business, all the others stating that trade was slack. The unlooked for condition was probably due to the fact that many potteries did not pay on Saturday afternoon.

TWO DEATHS.

One in This City and the Other in Lisbon.

Mrs. James McGill, wife of a well known millman in the employ of the D. E. McNicol Pottery company, died on Saturday night after a long illness. The lady suffered from pneumonia. Funeral services, attended by many friends, were held at St. Aloysius church this morning. The mother leaves four small children.

A special from Lisbon this afternoon says that Mrs. Frew, wife of D. H. Frew, editor of the Journal, died there this morning from typhoid fever. The lady and her husband are well known in this city, and her death will be received with deep regret here, as it was not generally known that she was in a dangerous condition.

A BIG PLANT.

That Is What the Park Company Will Make Kenilworth.

The Park company, who recently purchased the Kenilworth brick works, opposite Wellsville, propose to make it a great plant. A large sum of money will be spent in putting it in good order, 20 new kilns being in contemplation and new machinery will take the place of that sold when the plant passed into the hands of its new owners. A track will be built to the river and a switching engine will be purchased. The company had to have a plant on the river before they could compete successfully with the Mack Manufacturing company, because of the low freight rate.

NO ONIONS THERE.

Tiltonville Has Quarantined Against East Liverpool.

Some Tiltonville people who are visiting in town can't get home because the health board at that place have instituted a rigid quarantine against the city. Neither can they ship articles of any kind to this town. Last week a Tiltonville man bought two bushels of onions in this city, and sent them home. The health officer chanced to see the basket, and that settled the fate of the onions. They were kept in a secluded spot in the depot, and no one was allowed to go near them. The quarantine is rigid, and the visitors in town think it entirely too severe.

BRUISED THE BABY.

The Buggy Struck an Obstruction in the Street.

A babe was thrown from its buggy on Sixth street last Saturday evening, and was bruised about the head and body so that it cried lustily. The father was pushing the vehicle along the pavement when the front wheels came suddenly in contact with an iron grating. The jar threw the child into the street, and at once there was alarm. The mother feared her little one had been fatally hurt, and the passing crowd stopped to see the extent of the damage. After a few minutes the youngster seemed as well as ever.

MADE AN ASSIGNMENT.

E. K. Chamberlain Went to the Wall Saturday Night.

The stationery store of E. K. Chamberlain was closed on Saturday night and Attorney Travis took possession in the name of his client, Samuel Dixon, of East End. Chamberlain owed Dixon $399.33, and gave peaceable possession, but later made an assignment, and an attorney took the paper to Lisbon, where it was filed. The goods were appraised, but the assignee is appraising them again today. Chamberlain intended to go out of business here, and will move to Pittsburg, where he has a position.

THE BLIND WAS UP.

Therefore There Was an Interested Audience Outside.

A Fourth street lady neglected to pull down the blind last night when she prepared for bed, and five men stood on the street, and with outstretched heads watched her as long as she was in sight. They seemed deeply interested in the matter, and it would not have been out of the way if an officer had chanced to pass and gather them in. On the other hand it is necessary to pull down the blinds before you prepare for retiring.

More Surveying.

The engineering party having the bridge work in hand were in town today and did some work this morning. As usual the promoters of the enterprise have nothing to say, but it seems there is more push and activity in the project at present than has been known in months.

HIT BY A BEER GLASS

Richard Green Threw it Straight at John Dennis.

IT ALL HAPPENED IN A SALOON

There Was Blood and Confusion for a Few Minutes—Wellsville and Liverpool Did Battle, and the Man From Down the River Escaped.

The liveliest row that has been seen in the city for many a day occurred in a Midway saloon on Saturday night, and when it was all over a Liverpool man was under arrest and a Wellsville resident was hastening homeward.

John Dennis is the name of the man from down the river, and he was in the saloon when he became engaged in conversation with Richard Green, an employe of the ice company. The pair had talked only a few minutes when they began to quarrel over some old trouble between them a few days ago. At length the discussion grew so warm that the lie was passed, and Green caught up a beer glass. With all the force he could command he hurled it at Dennis, striking him on the forehead, and cutting a gash from which the blood flowed freely. Dennis then closed in on his antagonist, and the pair went down together struggling and fighting until they were separated. Some one called for the police, and after the fight was over Special Officer Welsh appeared on the scene, having run some distance. He arrested Green and took him before the mayor, who fined him $7.50 and let him go. The Wellsville man got away, boarded a car and was not long in reaching his native village.

GAVE IT AWAY.

The Result of a Horse Trade Up the River.

A young man of the city who professes to know a thing or two about horses made a trade with a farmer living at Smith's Ferry one day last week and now regrets it. His horse was not pretty, nor of distinguished descent, but it could work, and he wanted one that looked well. The farmer had a splendidly appearing animal, and the trade was made. Before he had gone far on the road home he discovered the animal was wind broken and worthless. It almost died on his hands, giving out entirely. Then he hunted up an acquaintance in the vicinity where he chanced to be, gave him the horse and walked home.

RELIEF FOR CROCKERY.

A New Tariff Would Keep Out Foreign Ware.

"If congress does what is contemplated and passes a law increasing tariff duties 25 per cent, crockery will be benefited a little," said a well known resident to a reporter. "As I understand it, this increase is to be 25 per cent on the existing schedules, which would mean an increase to 35 for decorated ware and 37.5 for plain white. Such an increase would not allow the American manufacturers to raise the selling price, but it would help them to compete more successfully with foreign made ware, because it would then cost the importers more money."

A BIG RISE.

Coal Has Already Started From Above the Dam.

The rains have at last had the desired effect, and coal went out of Pittsburg with a rush this morning. The rise is not as big as some rivermen want, but they believe that one-third at least of the coal on hand will get out, and boats on the way up will arrive and depart with tons before the cold streak already in sight comes this way. There was activity on the river all of last night and whistles were sounding a pleasant Christmas chime for the rivermen, who now think there will be a boating stage for packets until spring.

TO SELECT THE TEAM.

The Rovers Will Hold a Meeting Tonight.

The Rovers are practicing diligently for their game with Niles on Christmas, and will meet this evening for the purpose of selecting a team. Already the word has gone out that the best men in the club will be chosen for the game, and the Rovers will fight hard to win out. A game with the crack Pittsburg Athletic club is among the possibilities of the future.

A SEA OF MUD.

Ravine Street Is Anything But Pretty These Days.

Residents of Ravine street have to contend with mud. The recent rains made the hard roadway soft and marshy, and the great amount of travel on the lower part of the street has transformed it into a black, sticky mass which is cursed and discussed by the people who walk that way. The road is in a miserable condition, but will likely remain that way the greater part of the next half dozen months for nothing can be done to improve it.

POSTPONED.

Anne Houser Will Not Be Heard This Afternoon.

The hearing of Anne Houser was postponed and did not take place this afternoon, as was arranged. The request for postponement was made by the defense, as their principal witness was out of the state and could not be reached. The hearing was set for Thursday, and will in all probability take place at that time. The Law and Order league are determined to place the girl who lived with Mrs. Houser under arrest as soon as she can be found.

When the time for the hearing arrived there was a big crowd of curious people around city hall, and all were disappointed when they learned that the hearing had been postponed.

LIFTED TODAY.

The Sixth Street Quarantine Is at an End.

Doctor Ogden lifted the quarantine at the residence of James Douglass on Sixth street this morning, it having been found that the family had nothing like smallpox.

Winnie Mercer continues to improve and will be allowed to leave his room on Wednesday unless some unforeseen happening prevents. His brother is not in a bad way and will get along all right. The quarantine will be lifted 14 days after the patients are well. At the end of this week the doctor will not fear for results if no new cases develop.

SAVED BY A DOCTOR.

A Foolish Young Girl Almost Ended Her Life.

It leaked out today that a foolish young girl, who has a wide acquaintance because she has been employed at several restaurants in town, almost ended her life last week. She was deeply disappointed in her loved one and because she could not bring him to believe that they would make the happiest bride and groom on earth took poison. Her condition was discovered in time to prevent her from crossing the river, but the services of a physician were needed for several hours. It is not known whether the marriage will take place.

THE POUND PARTY.

General Lyon Post Will Hold It This Evening.

The annual pound party of General Lyon Post will be held in the comfortable quarters of the Grand Army this evening, and an unusually pleasant time is anticipated. All the friends of the Grand Army are invited to be present, and they are promised an enjoyable evening if they attend. The object of the party is to give the widows and orphans of deceased soldiers a Christmas gift, and is not to be considered in the light of a donation to the poor, for the boys who wore the blue do not observe it in that way.

GONE HOME.

A Metzinger Did All He Could For His Boy and Left.

A Metzinger, who came here from Indiana to get his son out of the ugly scrape he is in, has returned home, but did all he could before leaving. His object was to have the charge changed to assault and battery and he went to Prosecutor Speaker with that request, but was not successful, as Mr. Speaker could do nothing. He promised, however, to do what he could when the grand jury meets. Frazier, who was cut, will go to his home in Kent for Christmas, but promises to return.

WAR PRISONERS.

They Will Meet in Grand Army Hall on Christmas.

The old-time prisoners of war, who were so unfortunate as to fall into the hands of the Johnnies during the late unpleasantness, and who were so fortunate as to escape alive, and live to tell the story of their sufferings and privations, will meet on Christmas day, at 3 p. m., in Grand Army hall, to recount reminiscences of those dark days and exult over the fact that they can now eat beans and turkey, in place of wind pudding.

Caused Excitement.

A team of mules, hitched to a wagon loaded with potatoes, became unmanageable in the alley near the opera house this morning and caused excitement. They overturned a barrel of water, and collected a large crowd.

IT WAS A LONG CHASE

But the East Liverpool Man Got Away.

HE VISITED IN WEST VIRGINIA

And the Constable Had a Warrant in His Inside Pocket—The House Was Searched, But Johnson Skipped Out—It All Came From a Personal Encounter.

There was an amusing and at once a thrilling incident in West Virginia last night, one of the central figures being an East Liverpool man.

His name is William Johnson, and the excuse for the happening dates back several weeks, when he had business on the other side of the river. While there, Johnson became involved in a quarrel with Walter Moore, and yielding to great provocation gave him a severe thrashing. Before he could be arrested he got out of the state, and remained away until Saturday night, when he went to Hamlettown, the little village opposite Wellsville. He was calling at the house of a friend there when the trouble happened. Immediately after the first occurrence, Moore had a warrant issued for Johnson's arrest, and Constable Metz has since been looking for him. When he went to the state some one was kind enough to inform Metz, who called at the house and demanded him. He was told that Johnson was not there, but did not believe the statement and searched the house. While hunting in the cellar, Johnson slipped out and disappeared, leaving the constable behind. The escape was discovered and a hot pursuit followed, but Johnson got away and succeeded in making this city in safety. Constable Metz kept up the chase as long as there was a chance to win.

READY FOR WAR.

The Grand Army Boys Will Fall Into Line.

When asked today why General Lyon Post did not take action at its last meeting on the controversy with England, a prominent member of the Grand Army said:

"We had some other matters to attend to but our hearts are in the right place. We would readily enter the service if we were needed and every man would enlist. Of course we could not do very much in the way of marching, but we could stand up in a fortification and shoot as well as any of them."

THE DOG TAX.

A Councilman Thinks It Would Be a Good Thing.

Councilman Challis is a member of the kennel club organized the other evening, and enthusiastically favors the proposed tax on dogs. He believes the number of worthless animals in town could be disposed of in no better way, and thinks that the tax would produce sufficient revenue to pay the expenses of a pound, where animals without tags could be detained and returned to their owners or killed, as those persons might direct. The kennel club has a meeting this evening at the usual place.

CROWDED STREETS.

Many People Are Enjoying the First of the Holidays.

Almost every pottery in town shut down on Saturday afternoon, although a few are in operation, and will be until tomorrow evening. The streets were filled with people all day, many of them being arrayed in their best, and enjoying the time as well as possible. Signs of the Christmas season were seen in the number of trees for sale. They presented a pretty appearance as they stood in front of the business houses handling them, and it was not long until the stock had been disposed of.

A FALSE REPORT.

Lisbon Only Has One Case of Smallpox.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW. LISBON, Dec. 23.—A report has been extensively circulated to the effect that there is another case of smallpox in Lisbon, but there is nothing in it. The one case in Jordanville has been so carefully guarded since the discovery was made that no other people were stricken. The man is getting along very well, and it is thought that he will recover.

THE SCREEN ORDINANCE

Gets a Saloonkeeper in Trouble This Afternoon.

Grant McKinnon and Detective Huckle this afternoon preferred a charge against William Thompson, the Midway saloonist, for violating the screen ordinance on the night of Dec. 19. A warrant was made out, but to the time of going to press it had not been served.

SOME ARE SETTling

But Other Merchants Think Another Way.

WILL FIGHT THE INQUISITOR

Not With Fists and Weapons, But With the Law—They Cannot Understand Why a Settlement Is Allowed If the Inquisitor Has the Right.

The commotion created by the action of the tax collector in summoning local business men to appear in his little room at the court house has not yet subsided, but, on the other hand, seems to be growing in intensity.

It is a well-known fact that a number of business men have settled with the inquisitor within the past few weeks, and have been given a clear receipt on the payment of sums much below what he had charged against their names. Those who have determined to stand out against the inquisitor cannot understand why he should be so willing to settle for a small sum, thus cutting down the profit of his company, if he can legally collect all that he claims is due. On that, principally, they base their assertion that they are not compelled to pay and will not do it until the matter goes to court. One of the largest mercantile concerns in town did not respond to the inquisitor's demand for a visit, and recently received another letter, with the information that the sheriff would call if the last one was neglected. Another instance is cited where the inquisitor interviewed his victim by means of a telephone, and the local man convinced him that he had paid his taxes regularly and owed nothing. Thus was he saved the expense of traveling to the county seat. In one other case it has been learned that the inquisitor would transact business by means of a telephone. Instances of settlements can easily be found in town, one man who was charged with $1,000 being allowed to go when he paid $600. In another case the victim settled for $500, although the amount opposite his name was much greater. Those who have not paid are anxiously awaiting the result of their failure to go to Lisbon, and want to see what the inquisitor will do. They expect developments soon.

FOR MAIL CARRIERS.

Congressman Taylor Introduced a Nice Bill.

Hon. R. W. Taylor has introduced a bill in congress which cannot but make him popular with postal employees.

The bill provides that "no letter carrier, postoffice clerk or railway postal clerk shall be removed or requested to resign (except when arrested for a crime when suspension or removal may take place at once, in the direction of the postmaster general) until written charges shall have been preferred against him, and after such charges shall have been examined into by the postoffice department, upon such reasonable notice to the person charged, and in such manner of examination as the regulations of the postoffice department may prescribe; but letter carriers, postoffice clerks or railway postal clerks may be suspended by the postmaster general, pending the examination herein provided for."

SAM JONES' SCHEME.

How He Raised Money When the Collection Was Taken.

A well known gentleman relates that when he was south a few weeks ago he heard Sam Jones preach, and was stricken with the magnetism which the orator seemed to throw out over the audience. One incident of the meeting was before the collection was taken up. Reverend Sam wanted to impress upon the minds of all that they should contribute, and he said: "All ladies and gentlemen will please place their contributions in the box; those who are not, need not put any in." It is needless to say that the collection was large, and the Liverpool gentleman smiled when he thought of the southerners talking of Yankee tricks.

Business Men Were Complaining on Saturday Night.

One of the unusual occurrences of the holiday season was the bitterness with which business men complained of trade on Saturday night. The streets were filled with people and many carried well filled baskets, but the merchants were almost a unit in declaring that their business was not near what they expected. Out of a large number of stores in the very center of town only one was found where the proprietor said he was doing a nice business, all the others stating that trade was slack. The outlook for condition was probably due to the fact that many potteries did not pay on Saturday afternoon.

TWO DEATHS.

One in This City and the Other in Lisbon.

Mrs. James McGill, wife of a well known kilnman in the employ of the D. E. McNicol Pottery company, died on Saturday night after a long illness. The lady suffered from pneumonia. Funeral services, attended by many friends, were held at St. Aloysius church this morning. The mother leaves four small children.

A special from Lisbon this afternoon says that Mrs. Frew, wife of D. H. Frew, editor of the Journal, died there this morning from typhoid fever. The lady and her husband are well known in this city, and her death will be received with deep regret here, as it was not generally known that she was in a dangerous condition.

A BIG PLANT.

That Is What the Park Company Will Make Kenilworth.

The Park company, who recently purchased the Kenilworth brick works, opposite Wellsville, propose to make it a great plant. A large sum of money will be spent in putting it in good order, 20 new kilns being in contemplation and new machinery will take the place of that sold when the plant passed into the hands of its new owners. A track will be built to the river and a switching engine will be purchased. The company had to have a plant on the river before they could compete successfully with the Mack Manufacturing company, because of the low freight rate.

Tiltonville Has Quarantined Against East Liverpool.

Some Tiltonville people who are visiting in town can't get home because the health board at that place have instituted a rigid quarantine against the city. Neither can they ship articles of any kind to this town. Last week a Tiltonville man bought two bushels of onions in this city, and sent them home. The quarantine is rigid, and the visitors in town think it entirely too severe.

SAVED BY A DOCTOR.

A Foolish Young Girl Almost Ended Her Life.

It leaked out today that a foolish young girl, who has a wide acquaintance because she has been employed at several restaurants in town, almost ended her life last week. She was deeply disappointed in her loved one and because she could not bring him to believe that they would make the happiest bride and groom on earth took poison. Her condition was discovered in time to prevent her from crossing the river, but the services of a physician were needed for several hours. It is not known whether the marriage will take place.

THE POUND PARTY.

General Lyon Post Will Hold It This Evening.

The annual pound party of General Lyon Post will be held in the comfortable quarters of the Grand Army this evening, and an unusually pleasant time is anticipated. All the friends of the Grand Army are invited to be present, and they are promised an enjoyable evening if they attend. The object of the party is to give the widows and orphans of deceased soldiers a Christmas gift, and is not to be considered in the light of a donation to the poor, for the boys who wore the blue do not observe it in that way.

GONE HOME.

A Metzinger Did All He Could For His Boy and Left.

A Metzinger, who came here from Indiana to get his son out of the ugly scrape he is in, has returned home, but did all he could before leaving. His object was to have the charge changed to assault and battery and he went to Prosecutor Speaker with that request, but was not successful, as Mr. Speaker could do nothing. He promised, however, to do what he could when the grand jury meets. Frazier, who was cut, will go to his home in Kent for Christmas, but promises to return.

WAR PRISONERS.

They Will Meet in Grand Army Hall on Christmas.

The old-time prisoners of war, who were so unfortunate as to fall into the hands of the Johnnies during the late unpleasantness, and who were so fortunate as to escape alive, and live to tell the story of their sufferings and privations, will meet on Christmas day, at 3 p. m., in Grand Army hall, to recount reminiscences of those dark days and exult over the fact that they can now eat beans and turkey, in place of wind pudding.

Caused Excitement.

A team of mules, hitched to a wagon loaded with potatoes, became unmanageable in the alley near the opera house this morning and caused excitement. They overturned a barrel of water, and collected a large crowd.

IT WAS A LONG CHASE

But the East Liverpool Man Got Away.

HE VISITED IN WEST VIRGINIA

And the Constable Had a Warrant in His Inside Pocket—The House Was Searched, But Johnson Skipped Out—It All Came From a Personal Encounter.

There was an amusing and at once a thrilling incident in West Virginia last night, one of the central figures being an East Liverpool man.

His name is William Johnson, and the excuse for the happening dates back several weeks, when he had business on the other side of the river. While there, Johnson became involved in a quarrel with Walter Moore, and yielding to great provocation gave him a severe thrashing. Before he could be arrested he got out of the state, and remained away until Saturday night, when he went to Hamletown, the little village opposite Wellsville. He was calling at the house of a friend there when the trouble happened. Immediately after the first occurrence, Moore had a warrant issued for Johnson's arrest, and Constable Metz has since been looking for him. When he went to the state some one was kind enough to inform Metz, who called at the house and demanded him. He was told that Johnson was not there, but did not believe the statement and searched the house. While hunting in the cellar, Johnson slipped out and disappeared, leaving the constable behind. The escape was discovered and a hot pursuit followed, but Johnson got away and succeeded in making this city in safety. Constable Metz kept up the chase as long as there was a chance to win.

The Grand Army Boys Will Fall Into Line.

When asked today why General Lyon Post did not take action at its last meeting on the controversy with England, a prominent member of the Grand Army said:

"We had some other matters to attend to but our hearts are in the right place. We would readily enter the service if we were needed and every man would enlist. Of course we could not do very much in the way of marching, but we could stand up in a fortification and shoot as well as any of them."

THE DOG TAX.

A Councilman Thinks It Would Be a Good Thing.

Councilman Challis is a member of the kennel club organized the other evening, and enthusiastically favors the proposed tax on dogs. He believes the number of worthless animals in town could be disposed of in no better way, and thinks that the tax would produce sufficient revenue to pay the expenses of a pound, where animals without tags could be detained and returned to their owners or killed, as those persons might direct. The kennel club has a meeting this evening at the usual place.

CROWDED STREETS.

Many People Are Enjoying the First of the Holidays.

Almost every pottery in town shut down on Saturday afternoon, although a few are in operation, and will be until tomorrow evening. The streets were filled with people all day, many of them being arrayed in their best, and enjoying the time as well as possible. Signs of the Christmas season were seen in the number of trees for sale. They presented a pretty appearance as they stood in front of the business houses handling them, and it was not long until the stock had been disposed of.

A FALSE REPORT.

Lisbon Only Has One Case of Smallpox.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW. LISBON, Dec. 23.—A report has been extensively circulated to the effect that there is another case of smallpox in Lisbon, but there is nothing in it. The one case in Jordanville has been so carefully guarded since the discovery was made that no other people were stricken. The man is getting along very well, and it is thought that he will recover.

Gets a Saloonkeeper in Trouble This Afternoon.

Grant McKinnon and Detective Huckle this afternoon preferred a charge against William Thompson, the Midway saloonist, for violating the screen ordinance on the night of Dec. 19. A warrant was made out, but to the time of going to press it had not been served.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, DEC. 23.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF Ohio.

The cabinet held two sessions on Saturday, evidently to make up for the time lost when the president was out for ducks.

It seems that several New York stockbrokers and wealthy railroad magnates have been weighed in the balance of patriotism these past few days and found sadly wanting.

AMBASSADOR BAYARD is making for himself an unenviable record. Verily it seems that he courts the good opinion of the Briton at the risk of losing the respect of his own countrymen.

EAST LIVERPOOL can face the coming year with a pleasant smile. Prospects seem good for the potting trade, a new railroad is promised, and those who are in position to know say the bridge will be built. What more could we ask after the shadows of the past few years?

MR. DEWEY, he who is said to have had presidential aspirations, can not well make his elaborate utterances on national holidays stand with his opinion of the position we hold in the con-troverly with England. It would seem that even the eloquent Chauncey turns not a deaf ear to the jingling of the guinea.

THE VETO POWER.

Representative Hutcheson, of Salem, seems to be preparing to make a name for himself at the next session of the legislature, and he has taken the right course in deciding to introduce a bill which has for its object the placing of the veto power in the hands of the governor. It has long been needed in Ohio. We are behind our sister states in that matter. Legislatures have been corrupt and have squandered money with a willing hand, while the governor, who has had nothing whatever to do with it, has been compelled to bear his share of the blame when he sought office again. If a ring of tricksters forced some measure which did not meet with his approbation to a successful issue, he could do nothing but sit quietly by and watch with anger in his breast. The executive has always been expected to have a brilliant staff, entertain splendidly, and make appointments to please his political friends. If he did this well, his administration so far as he was concerned was a success, although to the world he bore a part of the responsibility in the laws that were passed without being much of a consideration. The most important need of his office has been neglected. He should have some power in the making of laws, and we earnestly hope Mr.
Hutcheson can prove to the general assembly the importance of making the governor of Ohio something more than a figurehead.

Anyone who has children will rejoice with L. B. Mulford, of Plainfield, N. J. His little boy, five years of age, was sick with croup. For two days and nights he tried various remedies recommended by friends and neighbors. He says, "I thought sure I would lose him. I had seen Chamberlain's Cough remedy advertised and thought I would try it as a last hope and am happy to say that after two doses he slept until morning. I gave it to him next day and a cure was effected. I keep this remedy in the house now and as soon as any of my children show signs of croup I give it to them and that is the last of it." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A.
H. Bulger, druggist.

SPECIAL MESSAGE

To the People of East Liverpool to be published in the EVENING NEWS Review Christmas Week.

SANTA CLAUS' PROCLAMATION.

I, Santa Claus, the first patron saint of the little and old chaps and chapesses, hereby make proclamation to every one in East Liverpool, and within 25 miles of East Liverpool, that my good friends, Joseph Bros., who keep a store at Nos. 223 and 225 Market street, East Liverpool, shall be my personal and business agents, to keep and sell Neckties, Handkerchiefs, Mufflers, Gloves, Hats and Caps, Men's and Boys' Suits and Overcoats; all up-to-date goods. I have been gathering of the best manufacturers in the United States all the year, since last Christmas. I have commanded Joseph Bros. to give all the people in East Liverpool, and around there, free run of their store. Look at their show windows. Notice the useful and ornamental presents they display. For the little chaps they have Boys' Suits, Boys' Ulsters in numerous styles. If you step into their store they will take pleasure in displaying them. For older chaps (yes, that's so) they are making a special sale of Men's Cutaway Suits that sold at $10, $11, $12, $13 and $14, one, two, three and four of a style left, (yes, that's so) at $7.37. They have these suits in the window and more of them in their store at that figure. Have your pockets and your long stockings made bigger than they were last year. I am the real and only North - Pole - roosting, chimney - climbing, stocking-stuffing, Christmas eve, jolly, red-nosed world circling Santa Claus.

Given under my hand and seal this 23d day of five; of the independence of the United States the one hundred and nineteenth.

REED'S BOND SCHEME.

This is to be the House Reply to Cleveland's Message.

TARIFF CHANGES TO BE ATTACHED

Wool and Woollens, Lumber and Various Other Articles Will Be Proposed For Limited Duty—The Solid Opposition of the Democrats Expected.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—This promises to be an eventful week in the house.
Before adjournment is reached next Saturday the Republican leaders of the house intend that a bill shall have been sent to the senate in response to the demand of the president's message for some means of relieving the treasury situation and protecting the gold reserve. The Republican leaders determined to act promptly as soon as the message was sent in, and all idea of taking a recess for the holidays was abandoned in the face of the situation presented. The ways and means committee has been organized, and the Republican members have held a secret meeting at the capitol, at which Speaker Reed was present, to discuss the details of a bill which, in their opinion, would furnish the desired relief.

As a preliminary it was decided that while the situation in the senate, as to the fate there of any measure passed by the house, should be kept in mind the house must act independently of the result in the upper branch of congress.
The general outline of a measure was practically agreed upon but the details have not been completed. The sentiment was unanimous that no gold bonds should be authorized, but that a bill on the lines of Mr. Reed's amendment of last year should be drawn up and with that should be coupled some tariff changes for the purposes of raising additional revenue. Last winter the Republicans took the stand that the menace to the gold reserve was caused primarily by the lack of revenue to meet the expenses of the government and that is still their position.

Mr. Reed's bond proposition, which the committee will adopt, provides, first for the reduction of the rate of interest on bonds to be issued under the acts of 1870 and 1875 for the purpose of resuming specie payment and protecting the specie reserve from 4 to 3 per cent, and second, for a low rate de-nominal coin bond which would practically be a debt certificate to be used to supply deficiencies in the revenues. By the terms of the bill it is probable that provisions will be inserted to provide that the proceeds of any bonds issued under the acts of 1870 and 1875, as amended, shall go to the reserve and of the latter bonds to pay current expenses. In this way a separate account can be kept and the proceeds of bonds sold to maintain the reserve cannot be kept to pay current expenses. The details of the tariff changes will furnish the most difficult task in framing the bill. There is practical unanimity of sentiment so far as can be learned among the Republican members of the committee for a duty on wool and compensating duties on woollens. The western members want the duty on wool to be at least 8 cents per pound, but the indications are that it will not exceed 5 cents. There is some discussion of a proposition to make a horizontal increase on all schedules except sugar of from 15 to 20 per cent, but that is opposed in certain quarters as being not on protection lines.

It seems probable, therefore, that wool and woollens, lumber and various other articles will be selected. While there is, it is said, some difference of opinion on this point, it seems certain that there will be a time limitation of two years or 30 months on the life of the tariff provisions of the bill. The point will be made that it is an emergency measure for raising revenue and,
therefore, could meet with the approval of all who believe that the treasury needs additional revenue no matter what the individual opinions may be regarding protective duties.

The Republicans of the ways and means committee are working to perfect the details of the bill today. It is hoped that it can be ready by tomorrow, and if so it will probably be passed under a special order of the committee on rules or possibly under suspension of the rules. Speaker Reed and his lieutenants are not disposed to brook delay. They believe the house should do its duty promptly. After the bill has been sent to the senate, the question of whether congress shall remain in session for the remainder of the holidays will rest with that body. If the senate will proceed to the consideration of the bill the house will remain in session and probably adjourn from day to day, but if the senate should
after the passage of the house bill show that it did not propose to go ahead with
it, and should deliberately pass a resolution to do its duty promptly. After the bill has been sent to the senate, the question of whether congress shall remain in session for the remainder of the holidays will rest with that body. If
the senate will proceed to the consideration of the bill the house will remain
in session and probably adjourn from
day to day, but if the senate should
after the passage of the house bill show
that it did not propose to go ahead with
it, and should deliberately pass a resolution to do its duty promptly.

As to the attitude of the Democrats toward the bill it seems probable that it will be opposed by most if not all of the Democrats. The silver Democrats are not disposed to vote for any bond proposition, first because they believe there is another remedy in the hands of the executive—the redemption of the notes in silver. They might vote for coin bonds to borrow money if the executive said money was needed to meet current expenses, but as the demand for authority to issue bonds is not based on that ground—which in fact is distinctly disavowed—their opposition to the bond feature of the bill is certain. They would probably also resist the measure on account of the increase in the tariff schedules.

The administration and sound money Democrats who might be disposed to vote for a bond authorization will probably be deterred from voting for the measure because of its tariff provisions. So that the solid opposition of the Democrats is looked for. The overwhelming Republican majority insures its passage, however, beyond question.
It is likely that several amendments will be offered by the Democrats if they can secure recognition for that purpose—one to authorize the redemption of the treasury notes of 1890 in silver, another to coin the silver in the treasury and possibly a plain free coinage amendment.

ENGLISH COOLING OFF.

At Last Some Think Cleveland
May Be Right.

EUROPE'S POCKETBOOK TOUCHED.

Consequently They Are All Angry at the President, Because of the Panics On the Bourses, Except Russia—Canada Still Talking War.

LONDON, Dec. 23.—Englishmen still find their perturbed nerves quivering anxiously, but their minds are coming under better control and they are already revising or trying to forget some of the hasty things which they said in the first stages of their confusion over President Cleveland's Venezuelan message. Men who Thursday were all for shelling New York within a fortnight now say that, after all, England has undeniably got into bad habits in dealing with smaller peoples, and, perhaps, some such vigorous rousing protest as President Cleveland's was needed to waken Downing street to the consciousness of the fact.

From this attitude it will be a short step to a general popular request for a statement of how England, without undue loss of dignity, can meet America's wishes on this Venezuelan matter, which nobody here cares a button about. This will likely be Englishmen's real feeling a week hence, although hot words on both sides may obscure its expression or even silence it altogether.

The Times this morning prints a whole page of telegraphic dispatches on the subject of Venezuela. A dispatch from Ottawa says: One result of the war scare will be in the thorough equipment of the Canadian forces. The country will not be satisfied till all are armed with Lee-Netford rifles. It is gratifying to note that the scare seems to have drawn Canada closer than ever to England. Everywhere the firm determination is proposed to hold by the old flag, come what may.

A Vienna dispatch says: President Cleveland is in no small measure responsible for the ruin of hundreds of capitalists in Austria. In Saturday's panic the Vienna bourse prices reeled by leaps and bounds till they reached a figure lower than for years past.

The Berlin dispatch says: "The tidal wave of financial panic which was rolled across the Atlantic for the past two days has not spared the Berlin bourses, which was in a state of feverish excitement on Saturday, speculative securities declining 10 per cent. The Boersen Courier merely reflects the temper of financial circles here when it describes President Cleveland as speculating by his wanton provocation of England on the meanest form of national feeling. It is argued that a country, which on the first appearance of a war cloud, suffers losses according to one estimate from New York equal to the whole of the war indemnity which France paid Germany, is not in a position to wage war, especially on such a trumpety issue."

The dispatch from St. Petersburg says: "It is easy to see that the Russians cannot help showing satisfaction at the serious turn the dispute has taken."

The dispatch from Rome says: "Public opinion is unanimous against President Cleveland. The financial panic had no perceptible influence here."

The New York correspondent of the Times says: "The people of the United States are at least a thousand millions of dollars poorer than they were last Tuesday, when the President launched his message and menace of war."

A Church Preparing For War.

CHICAGO, Dec. 23.—The St. Militant church of Chicago, of which Dr. Rusk is pastor, is preparing for war with Great Britain. Sunday after divine service the National Defense association was formed. Major F. H. Lynn, who in 1865 was identified with the torpedo service of Great Britain, is at the head of the movement. It is designed to call soon a national convention of representatives from the cities exposed to coast attack and arrangements will be made for the instruction of recruits in torpedo work.

The Cabinet Had a Conference.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The fact that several of the members of the cabinet were observed coming from the White House Sunday, led to a very general surmise that there had been a special cabinet meeting held to consider some phase of the Venezuelan question or the condition of the finances. Diligent inquiry, however, failed to establish the fact that a cabinet meeting actually took place, but there is no doubt that a conference of some kind occurred.

The Spanish Favor England.

MADRID, Dec. 23.—Public opinion here is so strongly in favor of England in the Venezuelan controversy that suggestions are advanced for an alliance between England and Spain in the event of President Cleveland's action involving hostilities. The impartial urges upon the government the necessity of friendship with England in order to counteract the Monroe doctrine.

The Commission Bill a Law.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The president has signed the Venezuelan commission resolution. It is therefore now a law. It is understood that he intends to make the commission consist of five members. Among the names mentioned are: Ex-Minister Lincoln, ex-Minister Phelps, ex-Minister White, James C.
Carter and Mr. Couder of New York, ex-Secretary Whitney, ex-President Harrison and General Franklin.

Harrison Declined the Offer.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 23.—Friends of ex-President Harrison assert without qualification that he has received an offer of the presidency of the Venezuelan commission from the administration, and that he has declined the position, owing to his not being physically able to make a trip to South America.

Preachers Denounce War Sentiment.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Dr. Parkhurst and a number of prominent ministers, Sunday, preached against the war feeling prevalent throughout the country.

Italy May Offer to Arbitrate.

PARIS, Dec. 23.—It is rumored here that Italy will extend to the United States an offer to arbitrate the Venezuelan difficulty.

OHIO FARED VERY WELL.

Representation Given On Ten of the Most Important House Committees.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The makeup of Speaker Reed's committees seem to be giving satisfaction. The speaker's colleagues on the rules committee are:
Henderson, Iowa; Dalzell, Pennsylvania; Crisp, Georgia, and McMillin, Tennessee. Dingley, (Maine), is chairman of the ways and means; Hitt, (Ills.), foreign affairs; Cannon, (Ills.), appropriations; Walker, (Mass.), banking and currency; Hooker, (N. Y.), rivers and harbors; Phillips, (Pa.), labor; Londenslager, (N. J.), pensions. These are the important chairmanships.

Ohio was exceedingly well treated by Speaker Reed, representation being given to Buckeyes on the ten most important committees. The Ohio men are well satisfied, with one or two exceptions.

General Grosvenor goes on ways and means, Northway on appropriations, Taft on foreign affairs, Van Voorhis on banking and currency, Strong on judiciary, Burton on rivers and harbors, Danford on immigration, McClure and Donahoe, one a silver man and the other a gold man, on coinage, weights and measures; Hulick on naval affairs and Fenton on military affairs.

Mr. Watson goes on Pacific railroads,
Mr. Bromwell on postoffice and post-roads, Beach on manufacturing, De Witt on claims, Kerr on patents, Strong on merchant marine and fisheries, while Fenton is placed on militia, Wilson on Indian affairs and Voorhis is reappointed to the civil service committee. Of the Ohio Democrats Sorg was placed on the committee on manufactures, and Layton transferred from judiciary to the appropriations. General Grosvenor was also given the chairmanship of the committee on expenditures in the treasury department.

FRUITLESS SENATE SESSIONS.

Nothing of Importance Expected From That Body This Week.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The course of the senate this week will depend largely, if not entirely, upon the turn which affairs shall take in the house.
The senate adjourned Saturday until Tuesday.

In the event that the house should adjourn over the holidays, the senate will be ready to acquiesce, as a majority of the senators are still unquestionably favorable to the usual holiday recess. The probabilities point strongly to the absence of a quorum the greater part of the week, in case no recess is taken. The calendar contains only one bill of general importance, and not to exceed half a dozen minor bills. Consequently there is little prospect of actual legislation in any event. It is therefore more than probable that whatever sessions are held will be devoted largely to speechmaking. If the house should send over a financial or revenue bill there would be no possibility of receiving a report upon it for some time; but such a measure might afford subject matter for informal speeches.

The Ram Katahdin Refused.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The president has decided that the government cannot accept the Amman Ram Katahdin because of his failure to attain the 17 knots of speed required by the contract.
Senator Hale has accordingly introduced a bill in the senate authorizing the acceptance of the vessel. The naval authorities are unanimously of the opinion that she is an efficient warship, and is prevented from attaining the prescribed speed only by a peculiarity of her model, for which the builders, the Bath iron works, are not properly responsible.

More Than 200 Drowned.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—United States
Consul Jacob I. Childs, at Hankow, China, reports that a violent storm passed over that place Nov. 2. The wind, blowing a hurricane, caused a number of rafts anchored in the river to break loose, and as they sped down the swift current they collided with a fleet of junk, carrying all before them, wrecking and sinking a large number,
and over 200 persons were drowned.

Troops After Indians.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The troops in New Mexico have been ordered by General Miles to make a hot pursuit of all Indians now off their reservation, and if they will not submit to be returned to their reservation under arrest, to destroy them if necessary. Troops are now after the murderers of the Merrill family, a party having been sent out from Deming, N. M.

Decided to Fight the Strikers.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Whatever hope may have existed on Saturday for a speedy and satisfactory settlement of the tailors' strike, has been dispelled by the action of the Clothing Contractors' Mutual Protective association. The contractors virtually decided to make the present trouble the decisive struggle between themselves and their employees and bade defiance to the board of walking delegates.

The Weather.

Generally cloudy weather; southwesterly winds.

FOREVER AND A DAY.

Urges me not, I pray.
All the air is golden;
Every thorn spray
In the sunlight blazes,
And my thoughts are hidden
By the warbling thrushes.
Urges me not today.

Oh, when winds of May Shake the boughs with laughter
Till they toss and sway,
Till they kiss and sever,
Speak not of hereafter,
Breathe not of forever—
Give me but today.

TWO LIFELONG LOVERS.

A Sentence Overheard In the Street Answers the Old Conundrum.

Tired by a long day's work and feeling a bit "blue" over some matters which had gone counter to my hopes, I was walking down Broadway one night last week, on my way home. It was after 10 o'clock and the down town streets were almost deserted.

As I turned through Sixteenth street
I noticed an old lady and an older gentleman walking slowly, arm in arm, evidently husband and wife. He was apparently about 70, she perhaps five years younger.

They seemed very fond of each other.
There was just the least little inclination of the head of each toward the other, and they were strolling along so slowly as to suggest the thought that their pace was regulated not so much by the infirmities of age as by the desire and pleasure of being alone together.
They were talking earnestly.

It had rained earlier in the evening and the sidewalks were still wet, so that I had put on my rubbers before leaving the office. Consequently my approach was noiseless. Just as I overtook and passed the old people the man turned to his wife and said, as if in answer to some remark she had made, "But, my dear, I like to think God sent you to me."

From a lover to his sweetheart or from a young husband to a young wife the words might have sounded sentimental, and would certainly have seemed commonplace, but from a husband of three score and ten to a wife of 65 they had a weight and dignity which made them sweet to hear and wholesome to recall.

Here was the whole story of two lives told in a sentence. Here was the answer to the old question about marriage. For them it was surely a divine success.
Here at least was proof that the writers of fairy tales and of old time novels spoke truly when they said that "they were married and lived happy ever after."—New York Herald.

A FIERCE LABOR FIGHT.

Apparently No Chance to End Philadelphia's Strike.

WELSH STILL IS STUBBORN.

He Again Reiterates His Refusal to Discharge His New Men—Strikers May Resort to the State Arbitration Law—Men Virtually Prisoners.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 23.—The strike situation is apparently unchanged, but the air is full of all kinds of rumors. No attempt has been made to run cars, the authorities fearing violence from the strike sympathizers. Many conferences have been held on both sides, but no statements have been given out. The strikers have had uniformed men in all parts of the city soliciting subscriptions from door to door, and it is said that the aggregate collection runs to nearly $8,000. What further efforts will be made in the way of running cars cannot be ascertained, but an uneasy feeling exists for what may result if any are made. Nearly every time a car comes out it is wrecked by a mob. Mayor Warlick issued the following statement: "As matters stand my duty as the chief executive officer is to preserve the peace and order of the city, and I will, with all the force at my command, do this, and if necessary I will bring to my assistance all the force that under the law can be brought into requisition, be it state or national. Life and property shall be protected by the strong arm of the law. Lawlessness is anarchy, and that will not be permitted under any circumstances."

At the West Philadelphia station of the Market street line a small army of new men are confined. They were brought here from Boston and other New England cities to take the places of the strikers. So after their arrival one man became dissatisfied and left. To the strikers he said that all the men would leave, but that they were practically prisoners. They claim they were led to believe that they were wanted to open a new trolley line here, and upon learning the truth became disgusted and wanted to leave, but were not permitted. The Boston man declared that he had to fight his way through a crowd of traction employees to reach the door. The strikers say that they will take legal action to secure the men's release.

John Lowber Welsh, president of the company, has issued a lengthy statement to the public. It reiterates the company's determination to ignore any outside organization, and lays the blame for the strike and its consequences upon parties who had no connection with the company. Then Mr. Welsh rehearses the events of the past few days, deploring the violence, and explaining the inability of the company to discharge the 1,000 new men they have taken on since the strike began.

The executive committee of the strikers has sent a subcommittee of five employees to confer with General Manager Boeten. Attorney Stevenson instructed them to use their best efforts to effect a settlement. If they fail the state arbitration law will likely be invoked.

John Wanamaker has had a long conference with the mayor. The strike, which was declared off by the labor leaders Saturday upon a proposition sent to them by Mayor Warlick, on the authority of traction officials represented by Thomas Dolan, through Rev. Dr. Baker and George Griffiths of the Christian League, was, a few hours afterward, when the men reported for duty, declared on again.

The proposition which was made by Dolan, a director of the company, was repudiated by President Welsh. He would not agree to take all the men back, saying that the 1,000 men hired to take the places of strikers must be retained. This knock out all chances of settlement.

A number of riots have occurred, a police officer being shot and many cars wrecked. Henry F. Graham of Brooklyn, who was brought here to work, has made an affidavit stating that the company is offering the new men $2.50 a day, while they refuse the old ones $3.

The strike leaders assert that fully 200,000 people have promised not to ride on cars of the company.

Many of the most prominent clergymen of the city discussed the strike from the pulpit Sunday, and while deploring violence were almost unanimous in upholding the demands of the men.

The daughter responded, and when she opened the door a large man entered the house, pulled an axe from under his coat and told Felly to surrender his money or he was a dead man. The old man hesitated, when he was struck on the head with the axe and killed.

Mrs. Felly was confronted by an accomplice of the other man, who drew a club and she fainted. The daughter, who was endeavoring to rescue her mother, was knocked down, tied and gagged. The men got only $3.80. When Mrs. Felly regained consciousness she released her daughter, who is in a critical condition.

He said that he did not think President Cleveland intended to intimate that such a thing was possible. He shamed the British ministry for refusing to arbitrate the Venezuela boundary dispute and said: "Where is that petition signed by a majority of members of parliament and addressed to our government asking them to join in a perpetual treaty of peace by which all disputes shall be submitted to arbitration?"

Resolutions were adopted by Dr. Gladden's congregation declaring for arbitration and copies of the same and Dr. Gladden's sermon will be sent to President Cleveland, the British embassy and Ohio's senators and congressmen.

PITCHER DAUB ARRESTED.

The Crack Twirler Accused of Being a White Cap.

HAMILTON, O., Dec. 23.—Some six weeks ago the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Tresco, in Mintonville, was stoned by White Caps. The other night about 7 o'clock a similar attack was made. Mrs. Tresco drove the party off at the point of a revolver. About 11 o'clock they returned and opened fire on the house with shotguns. They shot out most of the window panes, but when Mrs. Tresco appeared at the window and emptied her revolver at the assailants they retreated.

The next day Mrs. Tresco came to this city and swore out warrants for Dan Daub, the crack Brooklyn pitcher, and Clinton Crow, a young man living in the village. The charge is shooting with intent to kill. The men have been arrested.

EXQUISITE SINGING.

Miss Alice Goodwin Delights a Large Church Audience.
Miss Alice Goodwin took part yesterday with the choir of the First M. E. church, rendering, as a solo, at the morning service, "Holy City," by Adams, and giving "Christmas Eve" and "Holy City" at the evening service. The young lady delighted her audience and won warm words of commendation from the pastor, Rev. J. M. Huston, D. D. Mrs. Ted Brooks accompanied the singer on the superb pipe organ, and won favorable comment for her artistic accompaniment. Miss Goodwin possesses an exquisite voice, and has evidently had the very best of training by an artist in vocalization. One of her very desirable characteristics is her clear enunciation, the words ringing out clearly and as easily distinguishable as if in ordinary conversation. Miss Goodwin evidently has a bright future before her in the world of song. It is understood that the young lady will continue her studies and will be given the best masters in the land, as leaders in the musical world have stated that her voice has magnificent possibilities. The NEWS REVIEW, in common with a host of friends, wishes her complete success.

AT THE CHURCHES.

There Were Christmas Sermons and Services.
The churches were filled yesterday, and beautiful weather brought out many worshippers. At the First Presbyterian church Doctor Lee delivered an excellent sermon in the evening illustrating the events which immediately preceded the birth of Christ by stereopticon views.
M. A. Eakin, of the Allegheny seminary, occupied the pulpit at the Second U. P. church and delivered two powerful sermons. There was special music by the choir and a male quartet from the Wellsville church.
In many other churches in town there were Christmas services, and in every instance the attendance was large and the exercises unusually interesting.

A DAY OF REJOICING.

More Money For the New Lutheran Church.
Rev. W. A. Passavant, of Pittsburgh, director of the six benevolent institutions founded by his father, preached a powerful sermon at the Lutheran church last night. The church was filled to its utmost capacity; after the sermon the choir rendered a beautiful selection, and the members of the Sunday school handed in their offering, amounting to $237. This will flow into the building fund of the church. The morning service was well attended, and six members were added to the roll of the church.

GOT AN INJUNCTION.

A Fight of Light Companies is on at Columbiana.
Special to NEWS REVIEW.
Lisbon, Dec. 23.—The Leetonia Light company, on behalf of the village of Columbiana, began proceedings against the council, clerk and treasurer of the village, and a restraining order was granted by Judge Smith. Last month the council contracted with the Commercial Light company to pay them $1.55 for each light they wired in from the plant to business houses, offices and residences. Over 400 lights were put in and the clerk was instructed to purchase carbon and other electrical supplies, all to be paid for out of the lighting fund. The law requires that the clerk certify that the money is on hand, but in this case it was not done, because the fund is heavily overdrawn. The injunction was to restrain the authorities from taking money from other funds for this purpose.

KOREAN CURIOSITIES.

All the Tools Made by Hand and Native Iron Used.
Frank G. Carpenter, writing about the peculiarities of Korea, says among other things:
"One of our ponies had to be shod, and another time we put shoes on the bull which carried the baggage. The pony was first thrown to the ground, and his four legs were tied together so that he couldn't possibly kick.
"Then the blacksmith pounded hoop iron shoes on his feet with a rude iron hammer. It was the same with the bull, though one man had to sit on his head while he was being shod. The iron seemed to be very good, and it comes from the mines in the northern part of the country. The tools of the country are very ingenious, the three and four pronged hoes being quite as good as anything we have in America. They were making tools in this blacksmith's shop, and all the tools and plows are made by hand.
"The blacksmith had a rude bellows, which was worked by a boy who stood on a seesaw and by moving up and down pumped the fire into a blaze. In other places I saw bellows which boys worked by pulling a stick in and out like that of a squirtgun, and everything is rude in the extreme.
"Sometimes horses are shod by being strapped up to poles, so that only two of their feet can rest on the ground, and the band which goes around the belly holds the horse up while he is shod."—Roxbury Gazette.

Had the Present.

There was an amusing incident in an uptown store this afternoon. The proprietor had purchased a gift for his pretty clerk, and was showing it to one of the other clerks when she came in. Then there was a series of athletic movements that would have done justice to a circus performer before the thing was gotten out of the way, and safely secreted in the basement.

MOTHERS

and those soon to become mothers, should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription robs childbirth of its terrors, terrors and dangers to both mother and child, by aiding nature in preparing the system for parturition. Thereby "labor" and the period of confinement are greatly shortened. It also promotes the secretion of an abundance of nourishment for the child.

Mrs. DORA A. GUTHRIE, of Oakley, Oregon Co., Tenn., writes: "When I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I was not able to stand on my feet without suffering almost death. Now I do all my housework, washing, cooking, sewing and everything for my family of eight. I am stouter now than I have been in six years. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is the best I have taken before confinement, or at least it proved so with me. I never suffered so little with any of my children as I did with my last."

GUESTS HAD TO JUMP.

One Killed and Others Injured in a West Virginia Hotel Fire.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Dec. 23.—Fire here that originated in Tomany's bakery quickly spread to B. C. Cohen's clothing store and the Central Hotel, entirely destroying the three structures.

The scene in the burning hotel was an exciting one. The guests all escaped with their lives, but saved but little else. Eli Stevens, a servant at the hotel, was burned to death. S. L. Ritz succeeded in rescuing a woman and three children and then to save himself had to jump from a fourth-story window. He is fatally hurt. George W. Blues, Misses Sallie Combars and Emma New, jumped from the second story and all are severely injured, but will probably recover. Loss, $50,000.

EXQUISITE SINGING.

Miss Alice Goodwin Delights a Large Church Audience.

Miss Alice Goodwin took part yesterday with the choir of the First M. E. church, rendering, as a solo, at the morning service, "Holy City," by Adams, and giving "Christmas Eve" and "Holy City" at the evening service. The young lady delighted her audience and won warm words of commendation from the pastor, Rev. J. M. Huston, D. D. Mrs. Ted Brooks accompanied the singer on the superb pipe organ, and won favorable comment for her artistic accompaniment. Miss Goodwin possesses an exquisite voice, and has evidently had the very best of training by an artist in vocalization. One of her very desirable characteristics is her clear enunciation, the words ringing out clearly and as easily distinguishable as if in ordinary conversation. Miss Goodwin evidently has a bright future before her in the world of song. It is understood that the young lady will continue her studies and will be given the best masters in the land, as leaders in the musical world have stated that her voice has magnificent possibilities. The News Review, in common with a host of friends, wishes her complete success.

AT THE CHURCHES.

There Were Christmas Sermons and Services.

The churches were filled yesterday, and beautiful weather brought out many worshippers. At the First Presbyterian church Doctor Lee delivered an excellent sermon in the evening illustrating the events which immediately preceded the birth of Christ by stereopticon views.

M. A. Eakin, of the Allegheny seminary, occupied the pulpit at the Second U. P. church and delivered two powerful sermons. There was special music by the choir and a male quartet from the Wellsville church. In many other churches in town there were Christmas services, and in every instance the attendance was large and the exercises unusually interesting.

A DAY OF REJOICING.

More Money For the New Lutheran Church.

Rev. W. A. Passavant, of Pittsburg, director of the six benevolent institutions founded by his father, preached a powerful sermon at the Lutheran church last night. The church was filled to its utmost capacity; after the sermon the choir rendered a beautiful selection, and the members of the Sunday school handed in their offering, amounting to $237. This will flow into the building fund of the church. The morning service was well attended, and six members were added to the roll of the church.

GOT AN INJUNCTION.

A Fight of Light Companies is on at Columbiana.

LISBON, Dec. 23.—The Leetonia Light company, on behalf of the village of Columbiana, began proceedings against the council, clerk and treasurer of the village, and a restraining order was granted by Judge Smith. Last month the council contracted with the Commercial Light company to pay them $1.55 for each light they wired in from the plant to business houses, offices and residences. Over 400 lights were put in and the clerk was instructed to purchase carbon and other electrical supplies, all to be paid for out of the lighting fund. The law requires that the clerk certify that the money is on hand, but in this case it was not done, because the fund is heavily overdrawn. The injunction was to restrain the authorities from taking money from other funds for this purpose.

NO TRUTH IN IT.

John Smith is Still a Candidate for Commissioner.

The report having been spread throughout the city that John Smith had withdrawn from the race for county commissioner, his friends think it nothing but right that the public mind be set right. Mr. Smith is still a candidate, and considered one of the foremost in the race. He is in it first, last and all the time, and his friends will stand by him until the end. Mr. Smith is looked upon as one of the foremost candidates of the long list already announced.

Mr. Ira P. Wetmore, a prominent real estate agent of San Angelo, Texas, has used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy in his family for several years as occasion required, and always with perfect success. He says: "I find it a perfect cure for our baby when troubled with colic or dysentery. I now feel that my outfit is not complete without a bottle of this remedy at home or on a trip away from home. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist."
